

From: Southeast Conservation Adaptation Strategy \(SECAS\)
To: Hannah Sodalak
Subject: SECAS July newsletter: Blueprint improvements in the works, a brief history of SECAS, the first newsletter
Date: Tuesday, July 23, 2019 2:44:14 PM

SECAS image w/acronym 2

July 2019 Newsletter

Southeast Blueprint improvements in the works this year

by Rua Mordecai, Coordinator, Southeast and South Atlantic Conservation Blueprints

We're working on improving the Southeast Blueprint! A draft of Version 4.0 should be available by October, and we hope to finalize it by the end of the year. Improvements include better integration of overlapping subregional inputs, new input data, expanded marine coverage, expanded hubs and corridors, and additional supplemental data. To learn more about the changes in the works, >>visit Rua's post...

A brief history of SECAS

by Hilary Morris, User Support and Communications, Southeast and South Atlantic Blueprints

In case you're reading about SECAS for the first time in this newsletter, here's a quick recap of where SECAS has been and where it's going. To catch up on the history of this initiative, from its formation to the first Blueprint to the SECAS goal and beyond, >>read Hilary's post...

The first SECAS newsletter

by Hilary Morris, User Support and Communications, Southeast and South Atlantic Blueprints

This marks the first installment of the SECAS newsletter! The newsletter combines all the blogs written on the SECAS website during the previous month. You can expect it to arrive in your inbox toward the middle to end of each month. To learn more about plans for the SECAS newsletter, >>check out Hilary's post...

Visit the SECAS website | Explore the Southeast Blueprint | Unsubscribe

Banner photo by Texas Tongs/Flickr, CC BY-NC 2.0

This email was sent to hannah.sodolak@ag.tamu.edu using GovDelivery Communications Cloud, on behalf of: U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service - 707 17th St, Suite 4000 - Denver, CO 80202

